OFFICE MATTERS

PRAYER REQUESTSMarty & Candice (Day 26)

Please pray for the crew on mission ship YWAM KOHA as they are on a rest/reset week between the first and second outreach of the year in Fiji. Hundreds of people were ministered to on the island of Taveuni and Qamea in the north. This weekend the ship is scheduled to sail to Vanua Balavu in the northern Lau group. Please pray that Jesus will be glorified and many people will be ministered to throughout the next few months.

Jeff & Ginny (Day 26)

Ginny has stepped into a temporary admin role at WEC NZ, covering for a staff member on maternity leave - please pray for strength and grace as she juggles this new responsibility. She is also awaiting a referral for her ovarian issue. Pray she gets seen quickly and that the right care follows.

Jeff is on the home stretch of his BTh at Laidlaw - one paper to go! Pray for wisdom and good time management. Continue to pray for wisdom and clarity over the ongoing MTC Vanuatu meetings and discussions.

Our youngest, Isaiah, is struggling with severe eczema. Please pray for healing for our wee guy.

The Goo kids are back at school - pray for good health, settled hearts, and a love of learning.

As a family, may we keep growing to look more like Jesus in the everyday, not just the big moments.

Kathleen & Anita (Day 15)

There is a certain amount of tension in the country this week due to the threats of the out-going president saying that he is going to start a revolution. However, this has meant the believers have not let up praying and churches continue to hold prayer vigils as well as extended times of prayer live, via You Tube and Zoom. Please keep the safety of the country in your prayers.

We have the dates for our week of teaching in the mission school in Pereira. August 3rd - 7th. We are hoping to get permission to finish on the 6th to avoid being away from home on the 7th which is the day the new president takes possession. Pray for this please. As foreigners we keep a low profile.

Pray that what God has spoken over Manuela's life in the spiritual realm will become a reality in the natural realm and that the position as a security guard that she is waiting for will happen as soon as the new president comes to power.

Murray & Ruth (Day 8)

After 18 months of continuous teaching, Murray finally has a decent break to catch his breath. Instead of rushing into his next course with only a single Sunday off, he can now focus on properly mentoring his co-teachers as they prepare for upcoming classes on the Psalms and Isaiah. This mentorship season involves significantly more preparation than usual. The team has promised potential students brand-new, previously untaught material, which means Murray must research and create fresh content and presentations from scratch. Please join us in praying for God's guidance during this intensive preparation period. Please ask that these upcoming courses will be well-balanced, engaging, and perfectly tailored to meet the needs of every participant - even though the final student roster will not be known until just before classes begin. Thank you for your prayers!

Jonah & Anna (Day 12)

We are taking furlough in three weeks. Please pray for our health and for help getting through the jobs that need to be done first.

Recently I talked with a girl, who told me how just a few years ago her family became the first family in their village to turn to the Lord. Praise the Lord! Please pray for them to stay faithful and loving, as they face some degree of opposition from their own community.

Please pray for our relationships at church, at work and with our neighbours.

Ashley (Day 10)

Pray for the van fundraiser. It would be great to have one in time for the new school year here. House hunting is like a needle in a haystack and needs lots of prayer. Keep praying for Rudi, Nico and Babus, different issues but all need much prayer too. Thank you!

Robert & Ayesha (Day 13)

Thank you for praying for us and the ministry in Central Asia. The heat of summer has hit, along with power cuts, so it's proving very hard to stay cool. We'd appreciate prayer for Isabella and Elliot - for good friends, their education, language acquisition, and that their knowledge and love of the Lord would grow.

Joseph & Helen (Day 27)

Thanks to the Lord for a keen bunch of new students who have joined us at Eastwest College for the start of this semester, joining the continuing students in the diploma course. Please pray that they will grow in knowledge and love for God as they study and live and work together in community, and for those who graduated at the end of last semester as some are heading for the mission field. Pray for Joseph to have inspiration and effectiveness as he starts teaching the New Testament course.

Jack & Jemima (Day 2)

It has been an encouragement for both of us to get good Christian fellowship from other believers recently. We are looking to God to be growing our internal walk with Him especially in a season where external things in our lives are moving at a slower pace here in Melbourne. We are also looking to God to be guiding us to the opportunities He has for us to be loving others in this season. Thank you for your prayers!

Ashley & Gillian (Day 17)

We are preparing to return to Fiji early August and expecting a busy schedule with pastoral visitation, Bible teaching, evangelism, travelling to remote areas on arterial roads and off-road access to villages and compounds. Pray with us and the local believers for opportunities to interact with people and diverse communities. We are recovering from recent health issues and value prayer.

Marion (Day 5)

Pray that our faith and trust in the Lord may always be kept leaning hard on Him.

Miki San has been clear of cancer for five years. An examination revealed that it has reoccurred. Please pray for the Doctors doing surgery on Tues 28th July. She is in our Father's Hands.
